Use of Cookies
To better serve our users we may use "cookies" to customize your browsing experience. Cookies are simple text files stored on your computer by your web browser. They provide a method of distinguishing among visitors to our website. Cookies created on your computer by using this website do not contain personally identifying information and do not compromise your privacy or security. We use the cookie feature only to store a randomly generated identifying tag on your computer. Visitors may refuse the cookie or delete the cookie file by using any of the widely available methods.

Disclosure to Third Parties
As a governmental agency, we are governed by open records laws. Any information received by us through use of our website is subject to the same provisions as information provided on paper. Otherwise, other than with third party contractors that provide services to the City relevant to the information you provide:

- we do not share personal identifying information with any third party without your permission;
- we disclose only in aggregate form our statistical analyses or demographics of users and this information does not reveal personally identifiable information; and
- personal identifying information will only be released to outside parties if we are legally required to do so in connection with law enforcement investigations or other legal proceedings.

Link Policy
In establishing and maintaining its official website, the City does not intend to create any forum or other means for public discourse. The City of Centennial site contains links to or from other Internet sites and resources. When a user chooses a link to a website not controlled by the City, we are neither responsible for the content on that website nor are we endorsing the entity to which the website belongs or the message on such website. When users click on a link to an outside website, they are leaving the Centennial website and are subject to the policies of the outside website. Links will not be made to websites that are (a) associated with an election ballot issue or question, or (b) associated with or sponsored by or serving a candidate for elected office, any political party, or any organization supporting or seeking to defeat a candidate for elected office. In addition, links to the following types of websites only may be established:

- State, local or federal governmental agencies, state colleges or universities, public school districts and registered homeowners' associations located in Centennial.
- Organizations with which the City has an existing formal contractual relationship.
- Organizations that receive direct financial or in-kind support from the City.
- Media and corporate sponsors of Centennial-initiated events for purposes related to the event and only during the promotional period of the event.
